

STORMY SCENES MARK SESSION'S CLOSE

EXECUTIVE WATCHES FIRST SESSION END OUT OF HIS CONTROL

Some Measures of Administration are Defeated In Closing Hours of Assembly--Traction Bill Loses
--Mutilate Utilities Bill and Kill Wheeler Measure.

BULLETIN

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 18.—With many members protesting against the "senate's mutilation" of the utilities bill, the house tonight concurred in senate amendments and passed the measure "as the best thing they could do."

The house then turned to Wheeler's civil service bill.

BULLETIN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 18.—Administration forces late tonight lost in their last desperate effort to pass the Wheeler bill removing hundreds of state employees from under civil service. Announcement of the vote was not made, Majority Leader Holaday admitting defeat before the roll call was verified.

BULLETIN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 19.—The Thompson traction bill is dead. By a vote of 22 to 22 the senate early this (Sunday) morning refused to reconsider the bill on a motion by Senator Etzelson. The motion to reconsider came after Governor Small sent a late message to the senate making a plea for the bill.

William Hale Thompson and his lobby for the bill were bitterly arraigned by Senator Glenn of Murphysboro. "My God, if you want to save Len Small get that bunch out of town on the next train," he shouted at Senator Etzelson.

Senator Dailey made a complete and decisive break with the administration and bitterly attacked the traction bill.

BULLETIN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 19.—No report from the appropriations conference committee had been received by the senate and house at 1 o'clock this (Sunday) morning when the administration was completely routed in its effort to put its last measures thru.

SENATE FACTIONS MAKE READY FOR ANOTHER FIGHT

Frelinghuysen Coal Measures
Will Bring
Trouble

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Senate factions today prepared for another battle next week over the Frelinghuysen coal bills. Reports that certain senate elements planned to use the measure which would provide reduced, seasonal rates on coal as a vehicle for many fundamental transportation amendments including repeal of the so-called railroad rate guaranty caused opposing forces to prepare for battle.

The members of the unofficial agricultural block of senators were said to be behind the amendments program. Besides pressing a proposal for repeal of the rate guaranty it was said that other amendments would strike at the interests of commerce commission's power to regulate senate rates. This has been protested from many states. Another amendment reported in prospect is for reduction of freight rates, especially on agricultural products.

EULOGY IS PAID TO MCKINLEY BY VICE-PRESIDENT

Speakers Also Praise
Harding at Unveiling of Bronze Bust

(By The Associated Press)

NILES, Ohio, June 18.—The nation's president and a married president both Ohio native sons, W. G. Harding and William McKinley, were given equal praise today at the unveiling of a bronze bust of the former in the Memorial of the latter.

While Vice President Coolidge, Secretary Davis, Governor Davis of Ohio and Congressman J. G. Cooper of Youngstown, extolled the lives of the presidents from the shadows of the white marble building the gigantic statue of the martyr gazed majestically upon upon the throng gathered to pay homage.

The similarity of character, purpose, ambitions, achievements and lives of the two were themes in the addresses of the speakers. McKinley set before the country not only an example of political wisdom, declared the secretary of labor, he gave it an example of moral fire. He touched the fainting moral strength of the people and they went forward again with a new vim, and prospered as never before.

Another leader of same faith "Now again we have before us a leader with the same pure faith, the same high confidence in the strength and purpose of our people."

In his few weeks in office, President Harding has shown the good will of McKinley, the patience and forbearance of Lincoln and the drive of Roosevelt.

At the conclusion of the vice president's address the cord was pulled which unfurled the large flag covering the Harding bust. The crowd gave a prolonged cheer, rising and singing the national anthem.

"The end in this country," declared Vice President Coolidge, "is in every other, two contending forces which, reduced to their lowest terms represent reaction on one hand and revolution on the other."

"It is not unfair to characterize them both as radical. President Harding leans neither to the reaction line nor to the revolutionary line. He holds to the rational line. The burden of the hour is the needs of the government. It is not by adding to requirements of the government but by taking from them that the burdens of the people can be lightened."

OPPOSES FEDERAL SOLDIER BONUS

United States Chamber of Commerce Does Not Believe It Should be Paid to Men Physically Fit—Insistent on Work for Disabled Men.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The chamber of commerce of the United States opened today a campaign against the proposed cash bonus for former service men sending a statement of its position to the president, the cabinet, members of congress and 1,400 trade and commercial organizations.

While insistent on the physical and mental rehabilitation of disabled men it said the organization seriously doubted benefits which might come from cash payments to the fact that all except six states have enacted some kind of legislation providing relief or bonus payments to physically capable veterans.

The statement calls attention to the fact that all except six states have enacted some kind of legislation providing relief or bonus payments and opposes federal duplication.

Governor Is Disappointed

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 18.—Governor Small late today expressed his disappointment of the turn of events in the closing hours of the legislature when defeat was looming for some of the measures for which he fought since his inauguration.

"I shall be very much disappointed if the legislature adjourns without giving the people the relief they had a right to expect from the exorbitant prices of the utility interests," the governor said. "I am especially disappointed over the defeat of the traction bill. I was never more surprised in my life, as I had believed all along that there would be little opposition to the bill. I didn't think the utility interests could prevent the passage of legislation which was of such interest to the people."

With little hope left for his program the governor would make no positive statement before the session closed relative to the possibility of a special session and another effort to have his program enacted into law.

When it started its night session the senate adopted a joint resolution to adjourn when it finished the legislative day until June 30 at 4 p. m., when the formal adjournment will be made.

Herr Sahn, president of the city, explained the order had been received last October before the city constitution was adopted. He said it was difficult to change the factory immediately for the manufacture of other articles.

DISCUSS PLANS TO PREVENT TURK AND GREEK WAR

England and France Would Prevent Hostilities from Starting

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, June 18.—The best and quickest way to prevent war between Greece and the Turkish nationalists occupied the time of the British foreign minister, Lord Curzon and Premier Briand who held two conferences today. Count Bonin-Langere, the Italian ambassador, participated in one.

No decision was reached, but after an exchange of the latest information and views it was decided to meet again tomorrow morning when suggestions of the British government for bringing about peace in Asia Minor will be considered.

An official statement fails to reveal the suggestions made by Lord Curzon but it is understood these included the giving of Akatol to the Turks and making the vilayet of Smyrna autonomous. Should the Turks refuse this arrangement it is declared that financial aid will be given the Greeks.

MAN KILLED WHO TOOK PLACE OF BERGDOLL

Bergdoll's place when the draft evader, now in Germany, failed to answer the call, died here in the Argonne Forest after being cited by the commanding general of his brigade for bravery in action in one of the most noteworthy battles of the war. He was Russell C. Gross of this city, a private in Company E, 328th Infantry who was killed by bullets from a machine gun nest later captured by Company G of the same infantry.

This was revealed tonight by the Overlook Post of the American Legion after an investigation, post announced it would change its name to that of the fallen hero.

SUITS ARE MADE OVER

CHICAGO, June 18.—Seamstresses with pins, needles, thread and other paraphernalia were stationed at beaches today to censor the bathing suits worn by women and sew in those wearers who violated prohibitions against the display of legs and shoulders which were made effective this year.

Last year the style of costumes worn at the beaches was left, it was explained to the conscience of the wearer. The result led to the adoption this year of strict regulations.

Hundreds of women who appeared today in last year's "conscience" suits kept the beach tailors-censors busy.

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 18.—Total appropriations made by the 52nd general assembly amounted to $91,155,849 when the big appropriation bills went to conference committee tonight. Bills which were passed appropriated $93,040,266. Senate amendments made increases of $169,000 to the normal schools, $138,000 to the state institutions, $67,000 to state officers' bills and $1,834,293 to the omnibus bill raising the total to $95,249,059.

A cut of $4,093,210 from the school fund made the net appropriation of $91,155,849.

The appropriations made by the 51st general assembly amount to $64,034,831. The estimate of the last Lowden budget was $69,640,785.

HOW TO TALK.
Scientific tests show that every additional inch of distance
between the lips of the speaker
and the mouthpiece of the telephone is equivalent to adding 120
miles of wire to the line over which one is talking. The proper distance is about one inch; if farther than that, such sounds as
"b, p, d, t, f, z," are transmitted poorly. If closer than one-half inch, nasal sounds like "m" and
"n" do not enter the transmitter
properly.

Hawaii sends a delegate to Washington elected for two years. Porto Rico sends a resident commissioner for four years, and from the Philippines come two commissioners elected for three years, but though these may sit

and listen in the house of representatives, they can not vote. Our colonial dependencies are voiceless at Washington.

Marion Star—We never took much stock in any threat of a general strike. There wouldn't be anybody left to pay the ten per cent strike dues.

TALKING AMERICANISM.
A few newspapers, most of them either present or past advocates of the League of Nations,
are taking occasion to criticize the grammatical construction of some of President Harding's utterances. We do not find any of them, however, who are in any doubt as to what President Harding means by the language he uses. Neither do we find any of them accusing him of constructing such phrases as, "Too proud to fight," "Peace without victory," or "Supreme sacrifice."

JUVENILE COURT CONFERENCE.
The U. S. department of labor,
through the Children's Bureau
and the National Probation Association, are calling a conference
on juvenile courts, to be held in Milwaukee, June 21 and 22, just preceding the National Conference of Social Work. The conference is an outgrowth of studies,
made by the Children's Bureau,

of juvenile court organization and methods.
Judges, probation officers, and others interested in juvenile courts will discuss practical questions concerning which there is considerable difference of opinion. The topics include the field of the juvenile court, the point at which the responsibility of the court should begin in dealing with children who come in conflict with the law, and the extent to which court procedure can be socialized without impairing individual rights. Study of the child in a preliminary to treatment, and methods of adjusting treatment to individual needs are also included. Juvenile court problems are increasing these days in cities large and small and are of vast importance as they affect the citizenship of the future.

The state tax rate will be higher the coming year. That will not surprise the citizens of Illinois who have followed legislative doings. So many organizations have been busy at work
seeking increases for the institutions or projects in which they are especially interested that the wonder is that the appropriations approved have not been high enough to double the state rate.

Bankers tell people that business conditions are improving but that economy is necessary and that people must buy less and save more. The merchant maintains that there is already too much curtailment of buying and that the "buyers strike" has been one of the big factors in business depression. Possibly there is a safe middle ground.

The holding of state positions
has many allurements, this statement applying to officers and members of the general assembly.
But if you had been in Springfield any time during the past week and observed the house and senate in session you would have found that office holding is not altogether a matter of joy. And no doubt the grief in even greater behind the scenes and in the recess periods, for there the work is done which really shapes the action of the regular sessions.
Political life is a strenuous thing.

By the action of the general assembly Illinois will have a dry
law which fully carries out the purpose and intent of the prohibition amendment. Now all that remains is sincerity of purpose in enforcing this law. When this is done in Chicago and down state,
people as a whole will have a more wholesome respect for law, in addition to getting some realization of the economic benefits of probhibition.

It must be admitted that up to this time, especially in the larger cities, many citizens who have had rigid enough ideas about the necessity for law observance in other lines have been very lax
about the prohibition measure,
have winked at its violation and
really done something in the same line themselves.

A. T. HERT PAID AS GREAT OF HEART AND MIND.
The death of Alvin T. Hert in Washington, D. C., last week was the cause of unusual demonstrations of sorrow in many localities. This was of course particularly true in his home city of Louisville, Ky. The Courier-
Journal in the issue following the announcement of the Republican party leader's sudden death

contained a column after column
setting forth some of the general facts of Mr. Hert's life and giving expression to the grief that his death caused.

The whole city of Louisville
seems to have been in mourning
for Mr. Hert had a very large place in the business, civic and social life of that city. His rise to party leadership had come in ten years' time and during that comparatively brief period he had impressed himself upon the life of his state and nation.

The Courier-Journal in a lengthy editorial voicing the sorrow which Mr. Hert's death caused said:
"Men will be grieving today
over the death of Alvin T. Hert
who had not heard of him ten years ago. It is testimony to his genius that in a short period he arose to his eminence in business and politics. It is evidence of his character that in his vigorous,
even militant life he drew to
him from all walks and all parties,
friends whose affection was sincere and profound. One might say that he was a typical American, as the phrase is commonly understood. But he was more.
He was typical only insofar as he was alert, independent, aggressive, sincere, successful. He was more than that, because he had a great heart which was always open to the world. If his head solved his practical problems, it was his heart which made devoted friendships no problems at all."

"By many Mr. Hert was most admired as a tower of strength
in the world of business and affairs. But to the public generally
he was best known as the real leader of the Republican party in this State and one of the foremost figures of that party in the nation. He attained that leadership swiftly. It was inevitable, when he turned to politics as an avocation, that he should become the commanding guide of his party. He brought to a party of somewhat heterogeneous ranks
and turgid views a vision which it had not known heretofore. He was a partisan, but before that he was a citizen. He loved politics as a sport, but he valued it as a means to public service. It would have been to him a poor sport if
it resulted in nothing but a scorecard. Hence he based party policy upon public policy."

SUIT TO ANNUL MARRIAGE
George E. Hale, by his attorneys, Wilson & Butler, has filed in the office of Circuit Clerk Wanamaker a bill asking the annulment of his marriage to Mrs.
Neva Jennings Hale. It is set forth in the bill that their marriage was Dec. 27, 1918, at Bowling Green, Mo. Mr. Hale now maintains that he marriage was not legal in that Mrs. Hale had not at that time been divorced from her first husband. The bill specifies that the marriage was void ab initio and that the parties
are entitled to a decree annulling
the same.

CUTTER FUNERAL TO BE HELD TODAY

Impressive Services Planned for Deceased Secretary of Grand Masonic Lodge.

It is likely that a number of representatives of Masonic lodges of Jacksonville will attend the funeral services today for Isaac Cutter, secretary of the Grand Masonic lodge of Illinois. Mr.
Cutter died at a hospital in Quincy, where he had been a patient
for several weeks.

The body will lie in state at the Masonic Temple in Quincy until 10 o'clock this morning, when the funeral party will go to Clayton,
the long time home of the deceased. Services will be held at the Christian church, with interment
in Evergreen cemetery.

The officers of the grand lodge
of Illinois and prominent Masons
from every part of the country will be present to do honor to the memory of the deceased.

As grand secretary of Illinois
Masons, Stephen Cutter traveled
into every section of that state, attending schools and conferences,
visiting lodges and superintending the work. He was easily the most popular person at every large assemblage of Illinois Masons. He had a particularly fervent style of oratory which left no doubt of its sincerity. He exhorted men to live the life they professed and to be ever true in conduct and speech
to God and country.

While it was as a Mason that Isaac Cutter was known best, he nevertheless was active in all forms of religious endeavor. He was an earnest member of the Christian church, president of the Adams county Christian church association, and superintendent of the adult division of the Adams County Sunday School Association.
His church and his lodge
were always close to his heart and
the object of his greatest efforts.

flour of feed now coming from their mill. The firm in addition to the milling business, represents the International Harvester Co. in the handling of trucks and also is the sales representative
for a well known automobile company.

The plans for the future include the building of a display
room for automobiles and trucks
at an early date. Brook Mill is an old mill site, as the original building was erected there many years ago by the late Mr. Scoon-
over, a pioneer of Jacksonville.
Afterward the property passed thru the ownership of Watson &
Heneghan, James Heneghan, Heneghan & Cain and Cain and Sons. The last mentioned firm surrendered the lease on the Brook Mill property after they made the purchase of their present plant adjoining the Wabash
railroad on West Lafayette avenue.

McNamara-Heneghan & Co.
have long conducted a successful
business and their friends will be gratified to note these plans for enlargement.

AN OLD TIME WATCH
Arthur Moss living on Capps avenue has a watch which is somewhat unusual. It is a key-winding Elgin and was bought at a second hand store 31 years ago. The case seems to be pure silver and has a stamp as nearly as can be deciphered, Fuhys Coen No. 1. Below this are the figures 611. It is a key winder and yet is a good time keeper.

COMPLETING TERMINAL FOR GIANT AIRCRAFT

Structure is 803 Feet Long, 264 Feet Wide and 795 Feet High.

New York. — America's first great terminal for giant aircraft is nearing completion at Lakehurst, N. J.

This structure, the largest of its kind on earth, is 803 feet long, 264 feet wide, and 795 feet high. Some idea of its immense size may be gained from the fact that if set down in a city the hangar would occupy three solid blocks. Its doors at each end stand more than 175 feet high and are 264 feet wide. A 16-story skyscraper could be pushed through the space disclosed by the doors when they are opened.

The hangar is officially known as the United States Navy Airship Hangar, and represents the latest word in construction for buildings of this type. It is planned to have it ready in the early summer to house the two giant dirigibles now under construction—the Z R -1, building at League Island navy yard, Philadelphia, and the Z R -2, nearing completion in England. The transatlantic flight of the latter is scheduled for late in July or early in August and the United States navy department plans to have the hangar completed for service before the airships are ready to sail.

Incidental to the hangar is a gigantic mooring mast to which great dirigibles may be tied when it is impracticable to house them inside the hangar. The mast is so constructed that the giants of the air will be moored, how on, and will swing in the direction of the wind thus avoiding the dangerous force exerted by high winds. The result of experiments with the Lakehurst mooring mast will determine the policy of the navy department in erecting similar mooring masts at various air stations throughout the country, such as St. Louis, Kansas City, Chicago, Denver, San Francisco, Seattle, New Orleans, Atlanta, Columbus, O., and San Diego.

The new airships nearing completion are of such large proportions, each being 700 feet long and 85 feet in diameter, as large as many of the great ocean liners, that the manner of "docking" them presented serious problems in engineering, but it is believed that the Lakehurst hangar will go far toward solving many of these problems.

First in importance came the question of doors to the hangar. Each leaf of the two doors, there being two leaves to a door, is made up of 800 tons of steel and corrugated asbestos. These leaves are supported on crete trucks which in turn rest on wheels the size of those on a freight car. The leaves are rolled apart by a 25-horse power electric motor. If man power were needed to open the doors, it is estimated that 1,500 men would be called on. Naval experts calculate that the giant doors can not be rolled open within 13 minutes and the entire process of housing one of the dirigibles will consume approximately 40 minutes.

Running lengthwise through the hangar is a railroad and three trolley slots technically described as docking rails. The dirigible about to enter the hangar will be cable-fastened to those rails, which extend on a 1,500 foot runway at either end, and guided to its berth.

Under the roof among a network of steel rafters, five monorail cranes support movable platforms which enable workmen to repair an aircraft after it has docked. These rafters are so far above the floor of the hangar that the workmen resolve themselves into mere specks.

So large are the glass windows in the sides and the roof that individual motors are necessary to open each window.

Every precaution has been taken to make the hangar as nearly fireproof as possible. The concrete floor is asphalt covered to prevent falling tools striking sparks and possibly exploding gas.

Searchlights of high intensity will guide the dirigibles at night and sunken lights, arranged like crosses, at the end of each runway, will facilitate landings.

Like the doors the entire siding of the hangar is of corrugated asbestos, arranged in strips, alternating between gray and two shades of brown. Experts declare it will be impossible for a hostile observer to identify the Lakehurst hangar from the air.

A Little Talk on "Prices," by Albert Renner, President of This Company:

—Ever since the war a flock of long haired high brows over the country has been telling us about "prices and their movement." Do you know that prices, as far as clothing (good made-to-measure garments) is concerned, are pretty near where they will remain for a long time to come. They are, in a number of instances, probably lower than they will remain. If you have any idea that "Buy Now" is a fake argument, drop in here and see what is being offered; examine carefully the goods and study the cost to you. Quality always has been maintained here. We will not urge you unduly to buy, but as a Jacksonville business house we want you to fully understand conditions. The "abnormal condition" in the world today is an abnormal lack of confidence on the part of the buyer. Merchants have what you today require, at your own price.

TWO MORE INDICTED IN KABLER MURDER

Search That May Reach Across Country Started for Vittorio Pisselli—Six Now Under Indictment.

(By The Associated Press)

Cleveland, O., June 18.—A search that may reach across the country has been started for Vittorio Pisselli, of Cleveland, indicted with Salvatore Cala of Cleveland, by the county grand jury today for first degree murder of Daniel F. Kabler in his Lakewood home nearly two years ago.

Cala was arrested near Buffalo, N. Y., yesterday and is being held there awaiting extradition. Detective Murney left for Columbus today to obtain the necessary papers from Governor Davis.

Today's indictments followed presentation to the grand jury of a signed confession obtained from Cala in Buffalo last night and other evidence gathered by Monday.

Six Now Indicted

The indictments of the two men today placed the number now charged with first degree murder of Kabler at six, the other four being Mrs. Eva Catherine Kabler, widow of the slain man; Miss Marian McArdle, daughter and Mrs. Mary Brickel, mother of Mrs. Kabler and Mrs. Erminia Colavito, midwife and alleged poisoner.

Emphatic denial to parts of Cala's confession were made today by Miss McArdle and Mrs. Colavito.

Mrs. Kabler said the truth would come out at her coming trial.

Miss McArdle said she had seen Cala but once.

"I did so then because I was afraid Mrs. Colavito might do me bodily harm if I did not see him when she requested," she said.

Mrs. Colavito said she had nothing to do with the actual murder and that Cala was trying to "frame her" in his confession.

MINNESOTA FARMERS FAVOR LOWER TAXES

Are Virtually United on Immediate Reduction of Rates.

(By The Associated Press)

ST. PAUL, June 18.—Minnesota farmers are virtually in favor of an immediate reduction in freight according to returns compiled tonight at headquarters here of the Minnesota farm bureau federation which canvassed the 175,000 farmers in the state on their desires on 16 demands for national legislation vital to agriculture. More than 1,000 townships caucuses were held to vote on the questions.

Minnesota farmers voted 10 to 1 against the enactment of a general sales tax and 20 to 1 in favor of continuing the excess profits tax. They also favored immediate completion of the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes waterway; laws prohibiting short selling of farm products and federal regulation of packers.

NEGRO BURNED AT STAKE IN GEORGIA

MOULTREE, Ga., June 18.—John Williams, negro slayer of Lorena Wilkes, 12, white, was burned at the stake today by a mob after he had been convicted of first degree murder and sentenced to be hanged. The prisoner was taken from the officers and rushed to the scene of his crime where he was tied to the stump of a tree.

Williams calmly smoked a cigarette as the match was applied to the fuel and he made but little outcry as the flames slowly burned him to death. It was reported that he made a full confession.

The mob quietly dispersed and no arrests have been made.

JULY FOURTH WILL BE GREAT DAY

Completion of Water Plant Will be Appropriately Commemorated.

The Fourth of July is just about two weeks in the future and already interest is being shown in the celebration proposed for Jacksonville. It is not to be the regular type of celebration with foot races, vaudeville, parade and balloon ascensions. Instead Jacksonville plans for an old-fashioned

ed picnic in connection with a program which will properly commemorate the fact that the water problem has been successfully solved.

People generally concede that this fact means the beginning of growth for Jacksonville, and so it is a very proper thing that there should be the observance which is planned.

The committee which Mayor Crabtree appointed to arrange for this event has a program in view which will make the day important. The members of the committee expect that the business men of the city will observe the day as a holiday, so that all persons connected with their establishments may be able to take part in the day's celebration.

PROMINENT BLUFFS YOUNG PEOPLE WED

Roy H. Beird and Miss Zoe Fitzpatrick United in Marriage at Pretty Home Ceremony Saturday Evening—Will Reside in Bluffs.

Bluffs, June 18.—A series of delightful social functions came to a climax Saturday evening, June 18th, when Roy H. Beird and Miss Zoe Fitzpatrick were united in marriage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bingham. Only immediate relatives and intimate friends of the bridal pair being present.

The dining and living rooms were pretty decorated for the occasion and the bridal altar in the living room was a huge bank of ferns.

Miss Faye Rees sweetly sang, "O, Promise Me," and the Mendelssohn Wedding March was rendered by Miss Helen Oakes. The bride wore a handsome and becoming gown of white imported organza with picture hat to match and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The bride's maid, Miss Dorothy Griswold, wore a gown of pink organza and carried American beauty roses and also wore a picture hat to match.

The groom wore the usual black and was attended by Mr. Francis Phalon, of Delevan, most intimate friend and pal of the groom while they were with the army of occupation in Germany. In front of a beautiful bank of ferns and flowers, the impressive ring ceremony of the M. P. church was spoken by the Rev. E. J. Rees, pastor of the church. After congratulations and best wishes for a bright future a two course luncheon was served in the dining room after which the couple left for a honeymoon trip to Chicago.

The bride is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bingham and young lady possessed of many womanly qualities which have endeared her to the people of Bluffs and vicinity.

She is a graduate of the Bluffs high school, class of 1918, and for the past three years has been a successful teacher in Scott county and in the graded school of Bluffs.

The groom is the only son of Mayor and Mrs. E. D. Beird and grew to manhood here, where he has a host of friends. He is a graduate of the Bluffs high school class of 1917.

Early in the world war he enlisted for service hoping to be sent overseas for duty. In this he was not disappointed as with a company of marines he was soon at the battle front where he saw active service at St. Mihiel, Argonne Forest and at Champagne. For unflinching bravery and extraordinary heroism he was awarded the distinguished service cross the croix de guerre by Gen. Pershing, who pinned them upon his breast. Later he received the navy medal and also the good conduct medal. Since his return at the close of the war he has assisted publishing the "Bluffs Weekly Times."

After July 1st the young people will be at home to their friends at the home of his parents on Wabash avenue.

SANATORIUM IS A REAL PROBLEM

Anti-Tuberculosis League Members Met in Conference With County Board.

A committee from the Morgan County Anti-Tuberculosis league met Saturday with the board of county commissioners for conference with reference to the sanatorium situation. State's Attorney Carl E. Robinson was present as the legal adviser for the board.

The situation that has resulted because the proposal to levy a tax for the completion and maintenance of the sanatorium was fully discussed. The representatives of the league urged the commissioners to provide, from the general fund a sufficient amount to make it possible to open a part of the sanatorium and thus to care for a few tubercular patients.

No decision was reached as there are a number of matters which will require more extended consideration. The basis for discussion was contained in the following, addressed to the board: "The Anti-Tuberculosis league in view of certain results of the recent election and certain rumors after the election present the following as an expression of what the league would like to see undertaken now:

"The league does not do this with the belief that it is the best thing that can be undertaken, but that under the circumstances just now it is the best way to bring about the development of the sanatorium and continue the work of the clinic.

"1. That the Tuberculosis Sanatorium be not disposed of.

"2. That the clinic be discontinued at its present quarters and be moved to the examining room of the sanatorium.

"3. That the sanatorium be opened with 5 to 10 patients.

"4. That the county be asked to guarantee sufficient money to the trustees so that the sanatorium can be opened and maintained for one year.

"5. That all contracts be finished at once."

COLD WAVE STRIKES JACKSONVILLE

No one needs to go away from Jacksonville to get the benefits of lake or sea breezes. We have them right here at home fully as satisfying. T. S. Scott, proprietor of Scott's theater, has installed a ventilating and cooling system that works marvelously, in that it sends into the theater every minute 31,859 cubic feet of cooled pure air, and, in consequence, that same amount of foul air is expelled from the auditorium in the same time.

Mr. Scott has expended a large sum of money in equipping his theater in order that it may furnish comfort as well as high class amusement for his patrons.

The ingenious ventilating system takes outside air thru a slotted opening in the rear of the theater building and draws it into the machine which later sends it thruout the building. As the air comes thru the slotted opening it passes thru a spray of cold water, thus washing it and cooling it at the same time. The powerful machine sends the air up to the ceiling just at the front of the screen and thence it passes thru the auditorium and down to the floor, the circulation being so complete that quite an appreciable breeze can be felt upon entering the building at the front door.

In addition to this new system of ventilating and cooling, Mr. Scott has other equipment out of the ordinary. The floor system of ventilation thru sixteen vents forces 4,500 cubic feet of air per minute into the theater and the same amount of "used" air is expelled during the same time, thus in combination with the new system, bringing in every minute about 36,000 cubic feet of pure cooled air. In addition there are six large ceiling fans, eight 16-inch oscillating wall fans and an 18-inch exhaust fan in the front of the auditorium.

People of the Jacksonville community will appreciate the efforts put forth by Mr. Scott to enhance the comfort and accommodations by his theater.

Illinois U. Again Triumphs In Meet

Wins The National Collegiate Athletic Association Meet in Chicago Saturday—Illinois School Does Not Win a First But a Well Balanced Team Brings Them Victory

CHICAGO, June 18.—An evenly balanced team which scored points in ten of fifteen events without capturing a first place today brought national honors to the University of Illinois by carrying off first place in the National Collegiate Athletic Association meet at Stagg Field, a contest open only to champion athletes and entered by more than three score of the country's colleges and universities.

The Illini took second, fourth and fifth place points, gathered a total of 20 1/4. Notre Dame was close behind with 16 1/4; Iowa took third place and fourth went to the five man team of the University of Washington, looked on as a sure first place finisher.

While central western schools with a preponderance of entries, outranked the east, far west and south in point totals, the east and west furnished the individual stars and it was their work which brought the greatest cheers from the 15,000 spectators, the largest audience that ever witnessed a track and field meeting in Chicago.

One world's record was tied, another approached and every event brought forth thrilling competition.

Earl Thomson of Dartmouth equaled his world's record of 14-2-5 in the 120 yard high hurdles. The eastern star might have beaten his record but for a poor start which left him slightly off stride at the first barrier and slip which caused him to tip over the fourth. Romig of Penn State, first in the two mile, Earl Eby of Pennsylvania University half mile winner, Shea of Pittsburgh, first in the 440 yard dash, and Gardner of Yale who tied for the lead in the pole vault were other eastern track celebrities who more than lived up to their reputations.

The Pacific coast furnished the individual point winner in Pope of Washington, a weight man, who took first in the shot put and in the discus throw for ten points. Hannah of Stanford took first in the javelin throw with a record mark of 191 feet 2 1/2 inches, two feet under the world's college record. Paul of Grinnell and Wilson of Iowa were among the central west's leaders.

Probably the greatest event was the two mile run in which the east was victorious.

Following is the official score of points in the national collegiate meet:

Illinois, 20 1/4; Notre Dame, 16 1/4; Iowa, 14; University of Washington, 12 1/4; Wisconsin, 10; Nebraska, 8; Grinnell, 7; Northwestern, 6; Ohio State, 6; Ames, 5 1/2; Dartmouth, 5; Chicago, 5; Kansas Aggies, 5; Michigan, 5; Penn University, 5; Stanford, 5; Minnesota, 4; Oregon, 3; Washington State, 2 1/2; Yale, 2 1/2; Georgia Tech, 2; Knox, 2 1/2; Sewanee, 1 1/2; Texas A. and M., 1; St. Louis, 1; Rice Institute, 1.

KERR STOPS RUTH'S HOME RUN RAMPAGE

Chicago Pitcher Stops Babe After He Had Hit 23 So Far This Season—Heilman Still Leads American—Hornby is on Top in National Tho Both Have Lost Ground.

CHICAGO, June 18.—Babe Ruth and Wee Dickie Kerr, White Sox pitcher, shares honors in the American league averages released today, which include games of Wednesday, for Babe broke all hitting records and Kerr stopped the mighty slugger when he seemed on an endless home run streak.

Ruth shattered all records by driving off seven home runs in five games, one establishing a new mark for distance, its estimated length being 470 feet, and gathered enough shorter hits to bring his average from .349 to .375. This placed him well to the front in the players who have been in 30 or more games. Then he faced Kerr and his home run streak was broken. Ruth had 23 homers up to Wednesday and was 16 days ahead of last season's mark.

All the leaders of a week ago suffered slight batting slumps except Ruth, Harry Heilman, a Detroit, lost nine points, but continued to hold the lead with a mark of .431, while Tris Speaker, pilot of the Cleveland Indians, continued to be the runner-up with .414, despite the fact he dropped three points. Ty Cobb, lost seven notches and is behind Spoke with .394, while George Sisler, the St. Louis star, is trailing the Georgia peach with .390. Eight points below last week's mark.

The St. Louis star, however, broke up the merry race for stolen honors which Rice and Harris of Washington were having a week ago. Sisler has passed the pair and is leading with 14 thefts. The Washington pair failed to add to their string during the past week and have a dozen each.

Other leading batters: Severoid, St. Louis .382; Williams, St. Louis .375; Ruth, New York .375; Witt, Philadelphia .366; J. Jones, Detroit .360; Gharitty, Washington .358; E. Collins, Chicago .353.

Austin McHenry, the slugging outfielder of the St. Louis Cardinals, is making rapid strides toward the top among the National league batters, and is pushing his teammate, Rogers Hornsby, for the lead. Hornsby suffered a slight slump in hitting, and dropped from .424 a week ago to .416, which retains for him the lead, however McHenry boosted his average from .382 to .401, only fifteen points behind Hornsby.

Leslie Mann and Jacques Fournier, two other Cardinals, went on hitting rumpages during the week, the former tacking on twenty-six points for an average of .388 while the Frenchman advanced eighteen points for fourth place, with an average of .368.

Emil Meusel, the slugging Philadelphia outfielder is topping the National league circuit drive hitters, with eleven round trip smashes, having added one to his string during the past week. Max Carey, the fleet-footed Pittsburgh outfielder, is showing his old time form on the paths and has snatched the lead from Frisch of New York for stolen base honors having pilfered three sacks in the last week and now has a total of 13 while the New Yorker is trailing with 12.

Other leading batters: Hargrave, Cincinnati .367; Young, New York .362; Maranville, Pittsburgh .357; Tierney, Pittsburgh .352; Grimes, Chicago .347; J. Miller, Philadelphia .348; Johnston, Brooklyn .346; Meusel, Philadelphia .346; Sullivan, Chicago .346.

The pitchers of the American Association have put a crimp in the batting averages of Butler of Kansas City, who has dropped from .441 a week ago to .418. He still leads the league however. Hausser, of Milwaukee, also slumped but continues his position as runner-up to the Kansas City slugger, with an average of .392, while Lear, another Milwaukeean, remained in third place with .390 despite a slight falling off in hitting.

Bird of Indianapolis fared well with the stick and boosted himself to fourth place with a mark of .390.

Baird also displayed some speed on the bases during the past week and has taken the lead for stolen base honors from Del Gainer of Milwaukee. Baird stole four bases and ran his string to 14, while Gainer swiped two, his total being 15.

Bunny Brief of Kansas City, has tied Bob Russell, of Minneapolis, for the home run honors of the league; Russell failed to add to his total of a week ago, while Brief crashed out a four-aly blow. They are tied with eleven each.

Other leading batters: High, Columbus .389; Gainer, Milwaukee .388; Brief, Kansas City .383; Kirke, Louisville .377; Gaud, Kansas City .357; Fishel, Minneapolis .356; Ellis, Louisville .348; Russell, Minneapolis .348; Thorpe, Toledo .346.

Babe Ruth Makes Baseball History With Record Hit

In a game with the Detroit Tigers at the Polo Grounds, New York, Babe Ruth, the home run king of all times, drove the ball into the center field bleachers for his twenty-third home run of the season. The ball landed 470 feet from the home plate, a drive never before equalled in the history of baseball. The "Babe" broke the record he had established on the previous day, when he clouted the ball into the same stands for a distance of 460 feet. Another record he had established was driving off seven home runs in five consecutive days.

CARPENTIER ONLY THINKS OF VICTORY

Thoughts Center on How to Beat Dempsey—Not Worrying About What He Will Do Afterward

Marhasset, N. Y., June 18.—Georges Carpentier and his manager Francois Descamps are not worrying over what they will do after the big fight is over. They only thought for the present is how to beat Dempsey July 2. When the challenger was asked today what plans he had made to defend the world's title in case he was fortunate enough to win from Dempsey, Descamps answered for him.

"Georges has only one thought and that is to win and that is to beat Dempsey. There is one thing certain; he will be a real champion if he wins the title."

Carpentier amused a party of friends on the lawn in front of his large camp this afternoon by throwing stones at a telephone pole across the road. He scored nine hits in ten chances.

Georges and his Belgian police dog Felipe then huddled the five foot fence several times.

There were many women among the spectators.

LACK OF PITCHERS RUINS CLUBS CHANCES

Several Big League Clubs Will Miss Batting For Big Money Because of Poor Hurling—No Staff Like Those of Old Giants, Athletics and White Sox.

Chicago, June 18.—Lack of good pitching probably is costing half a dozen clubs in the two major leagues a chance to take part in the world series next fall, for, of the sixteen teams, only four have more than one regular hurler able to win consistently at present. Several clubs have tremendous batting or scoring strength, and with effective pitchers any one of them apparently could make the pennant race a cakewalk.

The two New York clubs, Cleveland in the American and Pittsburgh in the National league are the only teams able to boast of a pitching staff with as many as two effective regulars. Many clubs have several men on their staffs credited with more victories than defeats, but they are mostly players who have been in only one or two games and are not regulars.

The records show that there is not a club able to boast of the top pitching staffs of a few years ago such as Brown, Pfeister, Overall and Ruelbach of the Chicago Cubs; Mathewson, McGinnity, Wilkie and Ames of the Giants; Bender, Coombs, Waddell and Plank of the Athletics; Altrock, Walsh, and White of the White Sox, or James, C. Rudolph and Tyler of the Boston Braves "Miracle Team."

The New York Giants have Benton, Toney, Neft and Douglas to bear the brunt of the hurling and each of these has won more games than he has lost. Perritt and Barnes also have done their share, giving the Giants the best pitching staff in either league so far as the number of effective men is concerned.

Pittsburgh has Babe Adams, Wilbur Cooper and Earl Hamilton, three veterans, doing good work, with Glazner, a recruit, leading all of them in the percentage column and Zinn filling in.

For Brooklyn, Grimes has been the only steady winner, Mitchell, Mamaux and Iuether have managed to break about even in their games, but their work has been erratic.

The rest of the National league clubs boast of little in a pitching way. Chicago's staff undoubtedly will improve later when Alexander and Vaughn return to form but both are out now with lame arms. None of the other clubs has a pitcher who has been able to return more victories than defeats.

In the American league, Cleveland, the world's champion, has Coveleskie, considered one of the best in the circuit; Bagby, who won more games than any other hurler last season; Mails, the sensation of the closing days of the 1920 schedule, and Uhle, who seems at last to have found himself. Mails, however, has not been so effective as last year and Uhle is not yet ranked as a top-notch.

The New York Yankees have had to depend almost entirely on Mays, with Pierce, Ferguson and Hoyt, all recruits and Shawkey, a veteran, winning a majority of their games. Detroit's best work has been done by Sutherland, a recruit. St. Louis has only one man—Shocker—who can be said to have a fair chance of even lasting through a game, while Faber has been the only pitcher able to win consistently for the rebuilt White Sox. Sam Jones carries Boston's burden in the box while Zachary is the only man Washington can depend on with Walter Johnson on the shelf with a sore arm. Philadelphia has no one.

Thus, a majority of the clubs have only one man pitching staffs. Detroit with a powerful all around team outside the box, would have an easy time winning the pennant. It is generally believed, if Ty Cobb could find a pitcher or two. The New York Yankees have a hitting team and a pitcher or two would put them in a fair way of winning. St. Louis, long a second division club is generally able to pound out enough runs to win if only its own pitchers could hold the opposition. The White Sox look like world beaters with Faber in the box, but without him they are hopeless. And so on through the leagues. The records show more good base running clubs, more teams with powerful attacks and fewer good pitching staffs than in many years.

Mrs. Margaret Huber, who has been visiting her father, S. W. Nichols and her sister, Miss Frances English, expects to return to her home in Elgin tomorrow morning.

A missile thrust was recently detected building its nest of artificial flowers obtained from wreaths in a cemetery.

AMERICANS WIN FIRST POLO MATCH

Defeat British Team by Score of 11 to 4—Playing of Captain Milburn Features Contest.

LONDON, June 18.—America's international polo team playing brilliantly at every stage of the game, today won the first of the series of matches with a quartet of Great Britain's best polo players for the international polo cup. The scores was 11 goals to 4.

With the exception of the third and fourth periods, the Americans outplayed their British opponents in every chukker. The result is a conceded gives the Americans a very prospect for taking back home the international trophy brought here by the British team from Meadow Brook, Long Island in 1914.

Today's score, the experts agree probably represents fairly the strength of the two countries. The victory was achieved before a brilliant gathering that included King George, Queen Mary, Dowager Queen Alexandra and other royalty and Col. George Harvey, the American ambassador and many other notable persons.

No one on the field today played faster than did Devereaux Milburn, captain and back of the American four. Milburn who was the hero of the day, with his wife was the center of a large group after the game.

There was no accidents or disputes throughout the game, notwithstanding the remarkably hard riding. The British players declared the best men won. The exhibition, however, was too one-sided to arouse excitement or to be classed as a historic game.

MANY YOUNGSTERS TRIED BY MAJORS

One Hundred and Sixty-one are Sent Back for More Seasoning—Many Made Good This Year.

Chicago.—The annual tryout of scores of minor league baseball players by major league teams has ended and the youngsters who failed to make good have joined in the yearly pilgrimage back to the minors for further experience, some to return for another chance next year, but many to remain in the bushes.

Every season two or three hundred youngsters are taken on the spring training trips by managers hopeful of finding at least one Cobb, one Sisler or one Walter Johnson among them, but when May 15, the day the clubs must reduce to 25 players each, comes around the tryouts are ended and most of the youngsters are back in the minors.

This year the sixteen major league clubs have sent 161 men back to the lower leagues for seasoning. Most of them are pitchers, for the heavy batting of the past two years has sent managers and scouts scurrying to even the smallest leagues in the hope of finding one or two good hurlers, but there is also a good proportion of outfielders and a fair number of infielders and catchers.

The New York Americans with nineteen recruits sent back, lead both leagues in the number of players found wanting. Manager Huggins kept only a few of his youngsters and with the exception of his pitching staff is depending almost entirely on his last year's team.

The Chicago White Sox, crippled by the loss of eight stars through the baseball scandal took nearly fifty men south, but nineteen of the new players have been found to be below major league calibre and sent back to the minors. The White Sox, however, probably have kept more youngsters than any other club, Sheehey, Falk, Johnson, Mulligan and Mostil being recruits who have earned regular positions in the broken-up club.

The Chicago Cubs were third in youngsters sent back. Seventeen of the men tried out by Manager Evers were found wanting. The Philadelphia Americans came next with fifteen turned back. Washington occupies a position unique among the major leagues for not a man has been released. Manager George McBride started the season with a small number of players and is holding all of them.

Virtually all of the men released were recruits, although there were a few veterans, such as Nick Cullip of the St. Louis Browns who has played with several major league clubs, only to eventually return to the minors each time. Don Ayers and Bernie Boland were others who might be classed as veterans. Both were released by Detroit, but Boland is getting another tryout with St. Louis.

Many of the youngsters tried out this year were fresh from college and the number of semi-pros given chances in the majors each season seems to be increasing. At least one of the college men has more than made good. He is Stephenson of Cleveland, who came from the University of Alabama to play second base when Bill Wambnass broke his arm. Stephenson ranks in the first ten batters in the league and has a good fielding record.

A majority of the players released were sent back to the minors with strings attached and will get another chance in the majors next year. Some of them already have had several chances but these men are always cheered up by the numerous instances of players who did not make good until they had several tryouts in the senior circuits and then became stars.

The following table shows the number of men up to May 15 released by each major league club according to records at league headquarters:

KEARNS THREATENS TO CALL FIGHT OFF

Says He Will Not Submit to Direction of Boxing Commission—Says He Has Too Much at Stake.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 18.—Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey tonight, threatened to call off the match with Georges Carpentier July 2, rather than submit to the direction of the New Jersey boxing commission over the referee.

Kearns declared he had no objection to the selection of a referee holding a New Jersey license but that he would insist on having a voice in the selection.

Members of the New Jersey boxing commission arrived tonight ostensibly to witness some boxing bouts, but it is probable they will have a conference with Kearns, Robert Edgren, arbiter of all disputes involving the two boxers, and the promoter, Commissioner Lyons said a New Jersey man would referee or there would be no fight. "I have a million dollar asset in Dempsey," Kearns said. "I am not going to stick him into the ring July 2 with Carpentier unless assured the referee is unprejudiced, will let the men fight it out fairly and will be capable."

"I am willing to have the New Jersey commission put the names of all licensed New Jersey referees in a hat and let Desamps and I draw for the referee. The fighters ought to have something to say, particularly the champion who has much at stake."

"I am not insisting on Jim Dougherty of Philadelphia." Dempsey switched over to light sparring partners today after his strenuous workout with heavy weights yesterday. He boxed six rounds, stepping two each with Irish Patsy O'Hare, Joe Benjamin, and Eddie O'Hare, 165 pounders. O'Hare is fast and possesses a good left hand. He gave Dempsey the best two rounds of the afternoon.

Bill Brennan, whom Dempsey knocked out in the twelfth round of their contest in New York last winter, visited the champion today. He expressed the opinion he is not in as good shape as he was the night they fought.

FARRELL STATE BANK BUYS PROPERTY

ACQUIRES STORE BUILDING
ADJOINING THE BANK.

Prepare for Enlargement of Facilities at Later Date—Russell & Thompson to Have West Room in Bank Building—No Immediate Change.

Announcement was made Saturday of the sale by C. H. Russell of the store building at No. 1 West Side of the Square, occupied by the Russell & Thompson jewelry store, to the Farrell State bank. It was also made known that the purchase does not mean any immediate change for the Russell & Thompson store, but the purchase was made by the bank in making preparation for the building which the bank expects to erect in the course of the next year or two.

The agreement for purchase provides that the new bank building shall include a store room for Russell & Thompson on West State street. Acquiring the building gives the Farrell State bank a frontage of 47 feet on the public square and 100 feet on West State street. This will permit a building that will afford spacious quarters for the bank and also the room for the jewelry store.

The new building will occupy the site of the present bank building, the store room just purchased and the alley west of the two buildings.

E. E. Crabtree, president of the Farrell State bank, said yesterday: "We do not contemplate building at once, but the purchase of the adjoining property has been made in the line of preparation. However, in the course of the next few months we will have plans drawn and will determine upon the type of building we will erect and the general arrangement."

"The store room on West State street for Russell & Thompson will be light and of generous dimensions, and with a very modern front. We are naturally pleased that we have been able to acquire the building from Mr. Russell, as we thus are given an admirable building site."

Mr. Thompson of Russell & Thompson in a statement with reference to the transaction said: "You can understand that we would not like the public to get the idea that the Russell & Thompson store is going out of business or to be in any less favorable location. We have decided in the new room on West State street that the location will be just as well adapted for business as the one we now occupy, and the building which the bank's plan includes for us is to be in every way modern. It should be understood, too, that no immediate change is in prospect and the consummation of the present plan will not come about until a considerably later date."

PATIENTS WILL DO HARVESTING

Those From Jacksonville State
Hospital Expect to Harvest
5,000 Acres of Grain.

The management of Jacksonville State hospital has recently contracted with a large number of farmers in the vicinity of Jacksonville for the shocking of wheat and oats by hospital patients.

Superintendent E. L. Hill stated that the men are expecting to harvest 5,000 acres of grain.

In the arrangements with farmers, no money payments are involved. The farmers who engage hospital labor contract to pay in wheat, oats or corn at the rate of fifty cents per acre of grain shocked. The hospital management sends out only able-bodied men, accompanied by competent attendants.

Such arrangements have aided for a number of years in solving Morgan county's harvest problem, and are of great benefit both to the farm owners and to the institution.

GREATEST CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM PROMISED

Directors Have Planned Generously for This Year—Program
to Run from August 12 to 27.

The directors of the chautauqua are now putting the finishing touches on the program and promise the most attractive assembly we have had. The management realizes that unless each annual program is better than its predecessors, the chautauqua will fail. It is a lot of work for the directors, but each believes he gets 100 per cent return in good to the community for every hour of time donated. The Jacksonville chautauqua is independent. It presents the best attractions and secures them wherever they are available.

The directors might book a circuit chautauqua by simply signing on the dotted lines of a contract with a "bureau." It would give us clean entertainment and some inspiration and would be a good thing to have, if we could not do better. But the circuit chautauqua will not give us distinction because it is too common for most any town can have them. It takes a live community and a wise management which is ever on the job to maintain an independent assembly. The management must know the taste and peculiar needs of its community and then secure the attractions which fit in and make good.

The independent chautauqua is built by the community. It is a community center. It selects the things wanted by the community and builds its entire program to meet the desires of its patrons. It is an institution for the people and brings messages, music and entertainment for all the people. And yet, while most of us know what our chautauqua is, there are a lot of people in and near Jacksonville who would be most agreeably surprised if they would attend occasionally.

There is not a circuit chautauqua in the country which can even approximate the Jacksonville assembly because it is a home institution and not run for profit, while the circuit is a business proposition run for the financial benefit of a "bureau," and not primarily for the benefit of the community. The people of this community have made our chautauqua and that is why it ranks as among the very best and if you doubt its reputation just ask some one familiar with the chautauqua game or compare programs.

The chautauqua is one of our notable community successes. It has been instrumental in initiating and furthering other community activities. Its management above all else has seen to it that everything on its program has been the best of its type possible to be obtained and at the same time clean, entertaining and educational. In this the directors have had the loyal support of most of the community and highly appreciate this loyalty and the fact that promoters of picnics, community dances and celebrations, horse shows, etc., usually avoid chautauqua dates for their affairs so as not to conflict with the assembly.

The program for this year in each department—music, lectures and entertainment—is the best yet offered.

The music alone for this year will cost more than the entire programs a few years ago, and it is a superb one and varied enough to please everyone.

It includes Dunbar's White Hussar band of 18 men all comedians, singers and dancers as well as excellent bandmen. Their programs will have variety plenty, a dash and musical excellence. The band appears in white and gold uniforms and with their gold instruments make a nifty appearance. This band is probably the most popular musical attraction to be had for chautauquas.

Mr. Dunbar who presented three grand operas here recently is one of America's most successful managers of musical attractions and operates three White Hussar bands—one of 12 men, one of 8 and the 18 man band on our program. Most of the men in the band have been in the Carmen company which was here last fall. The Parnells, the biggest little musical company on the platform, in unique, novel and interesting programs including character portrayals, etc.

The Chicago Operatic company, John E. Miller's company of Chicago's best soloists, which is the finest vocal organization of its type on the platform and which delighted our audiences the past two years.

The Zedeler Quintet, of which the leader Mr. Nikolai Zedeler was formerly cellist of the Stockholm, Sweden, Symphony orchestra. In the company is a violinist formerly with the Russian Symphony orchestra of Odessa, another from Spain, a pianist of high attainment and a soprano. Their programs will include the more popular classes. Morgan's Rainbow Division band, a real military band, the pride of the State of Iowa and the famous Rainbow Division, with thirty men.

This band was the old 168th, but when the Rainbow Division went overseas became its integral musical part and spent twenty months with it there. After the armistice it went into Germany for several months where it won the admiration of critical musicians. This band will be a delight to all who enjoy a tip-top military band, and who does not.

Among the speakers are included Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter and W. J. Bryan, and a native of Jacksonville, who has travelled much, was very active during the great war and imparts her illustrious father's platform abilities.

S. Parks Cadman, America's greatest pulpit orator who ranks among the greatest preachers and speakers of the world. Chas. Harard graduate, recently returned from his native China who will speak of the problems of the Far East.

Lincoln McConnell, famous humorist and America's most popular lecturer in a tonic talk. James Whitcomb Brounger, famous Los Angeles preacher, who spoke here several years ago in one of his characteristic addresses.

Roy Smith, who so pleased his hearers last year that the management contrary to its usual rule brings him back this year. M. H. Lichtner, an orator who has been among the most popular on the platform for several years.

Mrs. Mable Qualm Stevens, world traveller, teacher and evangelist, who has delighted many audiences in a Bible story-lecture.

The entertainers include: Pamahaska and his troop of trained animal pets. Gay Zenola Mac Laren, long recognized as one of our best dramatic readers, who has recently scored a great success in New York City.

Mr. Charles A. Gage, who sang bass with the Preachers' Quartet last year, will be platform manager.

Subscribers tickets up to a certain number will be sold to subscribers at the usual low rates. The price of these tickets is less than the usual cost of a concert by a musical company of the type of the above and many of us have paid as much to hear one speaker like those mentioned. The holder of a season ticket will get his money's worth from any one of a dozen of the attractions.

DIVIDING RUSSIA INTO REPUBLICS

Large Number of Tiny Soviet Republics Being Made of Old Empire—Each Having Some Autonomous Authority.

Riga, Latvia.—(By A. P.)—The Bolshevik government is rapidly dividing the old Russian Empire into a large number of tiny Soviet republics, each having some autonomous authority. In addition to those ethnological units, such as Poland, Latvia, etc., which broke away from Russia on their own accord, there are now at least 20 so-called autonomous republics within the borders of the old Empire.

Ranging in size from little communes, including only a few thousand population, to the great district of the Ukraine, these "republics" occupy, it is estimated, more than one third of the area of the old Russia in Europe, while the various Siberian and Asiatic states occupy so much of the old Empire beyond the Ural and south of the Caucasus that very little of the old Russia in Asia remains directly under control of Moscow—on paper.

The complete text of the Bolshevik decree, granting "autonomy" to the republic of Turkestan, recently published in the Moscow Izvestia, shows, however, that at least in one of these republics, the autonomy is extremely limited. The decree reserves to the Central government at Moscow all matters of foreign relations, foreign trade and military matters in Turkestan.

To some of these "autonomous" districts or nations the Moscow newspapers give names so different from those appearing in gazetteers and atlases that their exact location is extremely difficult to ascertain. They are as follows: Karelian Labor Commune, including a small territory north of Petrograd and west of Finland inhabited by the Karelians. The capital is Petrosavodsk, on Lake Ladoga.

The autonomous territory of the Mariak nation, taking in the districts of the Viatka and Nizhegorodsk governments inhabited by the Mariaks, a semi-Mongolian tribe of fishermen and hunters in the Arctic North Russia.

Autonomous territory of the Votks nation, bordering on the Mariak territory and including the town of Glasov and other parishes in the Viatka government inhabited by the Votksaks.

The Autonomous Tshuvasha Commune, including several parishes in the Kazan and Simbirsk governments south of the Mariak nation. Its capital is Tchiboksari. The Tartar Socialist republic, including the capital Kazan, eight districts of the old Kazan government and some parishes of the Ufa, inhabited by the Baskirs, who have as their capital Sterlitamak.

The commune or Volga Germans, including a small territory on the river Volga long ago settled by German immigrants.

The autonomous Kirgise and Cossacks north of the Caspian Sea and taking in parts of the old Astrakhan, Ural and Trans-Caspian districts, together with the little known districts extending into Southern Asiatic Russia. Its capital is given as Semipalatinsk, in the old district of the same name.

Autonomous Kalmuk Labor Commune, including a number of districts in Astrakhan bordering on the Caspian, Cossacks settlements in the Zaryzin government, and a small part of the Don territory.

The Autonomous Republic of Mountain Tribes, a commune on the northern slope of the Caucasus, including Vladikavkask. The Daghestan republic, including the Caspian sea coast territory to the west of the Mountain Republic.

The Georgian Socialist Soviet Republic, which enjoyed some measure of autonomy even under the Czar and which coincides practically with the old government of Georgia. Its capital is Tiflis. The Georgians once freed themselves from Bolshevik rule, but later were put under Moscow control again.

The Soviet Republic of Armenia including practically all of the ethnological district of Armenia. The exact status of this republic under

AT LAST 'TIS FOUND; RELIEF FOR THE GOLFING MOTHER
There really is a way to golf without neglecting children, and these women have discovered it. Mrs. Farley does the same with her son.

Soviet control is not at present known to the outside world.

The Republic of Azerbaijan, to the west of Georgia and north of Armenia. This includes Baku and the most productive oil fields in Russia, along the Caspian.

The Ukrainian Soviet Republic, with its vast territory of fertile grain fields along the Volga and including three of the most important Russian cities, Odessa, Kiev and Kharhov. While probably more strictly autonomous than any of the other republics in the Russian Federation, the Ukraine maintains such close relations with Moscow that it is difficult to ascertain where its authority begins and Moscow's leaves off. Its population is probably as large as Poland, its eastern neighbor.

The White Russian Republic, a sort of theoretical buffer state sandwiched in between Great Russia and the Polish frontier, inhabited by the "White Russians" and including the cities of Minsk and Pinsk.

The Abkhaz Socialist Republic, including certain territories in southern Asiatic Russia about which little is known. The Republic of Turkestan, which coincides practically with those territories marked on old maps of Russia as the government of Turkestan.

The Republic of Khiva in Asiatic Russia, including the city of the same name. The Republic of Bokhara, also in Asiatic Russia, about the old city of Bokhara, a trading center since ancient times.

The Far Eastern Republic, which is only more or less under Moscow's control, its fate fluctuating with the military successes and failures in Siberia. Its territory includes most of western Siberia.

Forceful Facts Concerning the Interests of Former Soldiers, Sailors and Marines.

Germany first used poison gas
in the World war in 1915.

The death list of veterans of the Civil War now averages 100 a day.

Marshal Foch, of the French
army, receives a salary of 33,000
francs a year.

The largest of the United States arsenals are located at Rock Island, Ill., and Springfield, Mass.

Officers of the French army are
to have three uniforms—full dress, undress and field service.

The authorized strength of the National Guard of the United States is 9207 officers and 202-363 men.

In Pennsylvania there are still 340,000 Victory Medals remaining to be distributed by the War Department.

The first expedition of the United States army going overseas
was 1801, when over 300 troops
sailed for Tripoli.

The future air forces of the French army will have no less than 140 battle squadrons and 80
observation squadrons.

In 1919-20 there were nearly 17,000 former British army men enrolled in the universities in the United Kingdom.

Twelve officers hold the rank of Field Marshal in the British Army, the only non-British holders
being the Emperor of Japan and Marshal Foch.

Forty per cent of 200 shell-shocked soldiers treated at the Mendota State hospital for the insane in Wisconsin, have been sent home cured.

Because the whole nation gaved
felt the effect of sugar shortage
during the World War, France has planned to increase her bees for honey during the next war.

Of the 300 medals with which Marshal Foch has been honored
by France, and the various governments, he wears only one decoration—the simple Croix de Guerre.

According to official reports
German losses in the World War
were divided as follows: Killed
in battle, 1,531,148; missing, 991,240; wounded, 4,211,481;
died of disease, 155,013.

In Philadelphia an army field
clerk visits industrial establishments for the distribution of Victory Medals, after the officers of the plants collect the army discharge of the men in their employ.

Sixty-six thousand officers in the United States Reserve Corps
are now fitted for each definite assignment can be located and called into active duty in event of national emergency.

The Seventy-seventh Division is to become a regular army reserve
unit, requiring its men and officers to drill fifteen days a year at camp, and acting for the rest as a preparedness division, inactive,
but ready for service.

An order has been issued by the War Department requiring every regiment in the army to create its coat of arms or badge with the emblems of the United States as a basis and then any distinguished feature that can be incorporated.

American army uniforms, which were worn by soldiers on the battlegrounds of France, are now being worn by the soldiers of the Nationalist army of Turkey. How these uniforms came into the possession of the Turks is a mystery
to the thousands of Americans
now in that country.

William Maher, a World War
veteran, who served in the British army, recently returned from overseas to Ludlow, Mass., to find his name listed in the town
onor roll of those killed in action. Maher was wounded and taken prisoner, and escaped from a German prison after fifteen months' confinement.

The Adjutant General's office in Washington, where records are on file for every American soldier, is the largest single record office in the world. A complete file is made of each man's service record, pay card, report of physical examination, and other reports.
The files occupy 608,572 square feet of space.

The question was recently raised in commercial circles whether there was anything left in Germany that could be bought for ten pfennigs, and after a thoro search
the nearest article that came to this price was in a second-hand book shop in Berlin, when a copy of "Why the U-Boat Will Win the War" was offered for fifteen pfen-nigs.

Dr. Louis L. Deaman, aged 65, a physician and surgeon in New York City, has the distinction of having served in the Spanish-American war, then in the Boer war, the Philippine trouble, the Boxer rebellion, the Russo-Japanese war, the Herero war in German East Africa, the Balkan war
on the side of the Serbians, and then in the World war with the Belgian and British armies.

John Nolan, aged 43, a student in the engineering department of the Federal Board of Vocational Training at the University of Washington, former sailor and lumberjack, has established a new record in the Army's "Alpha" intelligence test, with a perfect score of 212 points in 13 minutes. The best previous score in the psychology test was 207 points in 17 minutes, made by a professor of Yale.

For more rapid adjustment of the claims of disabled soldiers of the United States army, and for the convenience of veterans, divisional headquarters are to be established by the War Risk Bureau

in 12 centers throughout the country.
These are Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, New Orleans, Chicago, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Denver, San Francisco, Seattle and Dallas. Agencies that have profited thru adjustment of claims for soldiers are to be abandoned.

LASALLE WOMAN GAINS 22 POUNDS

Mrs. Mueller Didn't Think She Would Ever Feel as Well as
She Does Now

"Since I started taking Tanlac
I have actually gained twenty-two pounds in weight and feel like an entirely different person," declared Mrs. M. S. Mueller of 233 Third St., LaSalle, Ill.

"My appetite was so poor I scarcely ate anything, and I got so weak I could hardly stay on my feet. I was bothered constantly with gas on my stomach and by cramping pains that simply laid
me up for a day or two at a time.

Nearly every day I had awful headaches and my body ached all over.
I was so tired and nervous when night came it would often be hours before I could get to sleep. I felt miserable all the time and was losing in weight and strength.

"Soon after I began taking Tanlac
my appetite picked up so I wanted to be eating all the time.
Everything I eat agrees with me perfectly now, for I never feel a touch of indigestion. I have gained so much in weight that my clothes have had to be made larger and my friends constantly speak of my wonderful improvement. I am never troubled any more with those achy, tired, draggy feelings.
I can be busy all day now with my housework and when night comes sleep like a baby. I am now in the best of health, and all the credit
for my wonderful restoration to health belongs to Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Shreve's Drug Store and other leading drug stores.—Adv.

ATTENDED CONFERENCE OF FARM ADVISORS

County Advisor Kendall Returns from Champaign—Large Attendance at Annual Conference.

George B. Kendall and Herbert J. Rucker returned yesterday from Champaign where they attended the semi-annual conference of Farm Advisors of the State of Illinois. The general theme of the meeting was marketing and agricultural adjustments.

A great many people are interested in the extension of the Federal Farm Loan system but the only funds available at the present time are $10,000 for each Federal Farm Loan association. They expect to be in a position to organize new associations March 1st of next year.

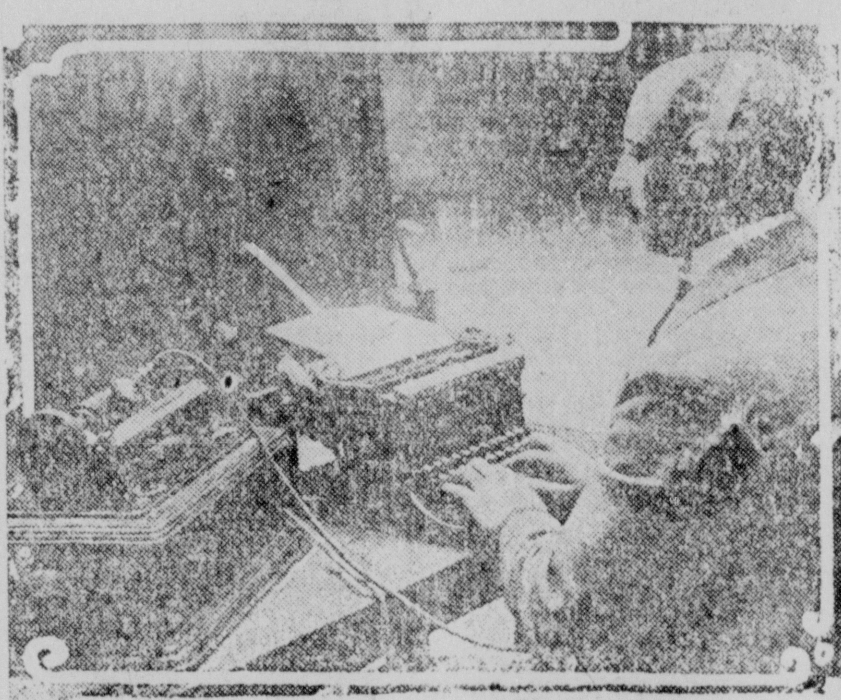

R. N. Clark, director of the United States Grain Growers, Inc., spoke on the united grain marketing plan as drawn up by a committee of seventeen. He urged the farm advisors to do everything possible to encourage farmers to support this plan.

Dr. J. N. Taylor of the U. S. department of agriculture expressed the opinion that it is more important for the farmers to adjust themselves to the new situation than to clamor for others to do the adjusting. He also said that it was his opinion that Europe will be more nearly self supporting in the years to come than she has ever been before. For this reason there will not be such a large and ready market for the surplus products of the United States as formerly.

While it might be possible for the people of the United States to be protected here from foreign competition, our farmers cannot expect to go into foreign countries and sell products without competition.

TEACHING THE BLIND TO TYPEWRITE

The German Government is instructing many soldiers blinded during the war in the use of the typewriter, thus enabling them to earn their living. Several machines for the use of the blind have recently been invented, but the blind men are also taught to operate a regular typewriter through the touch system. The above photo shows a blind war veteran operating a typewriter, receiving dictation from a dictaphone.

FORMER RESIDENT IS MAKING GOOD

The relatives and friends of Carl Gordon, so well and favorably known in this vicinity, will be pleased to know of the work the young gentleman has accomplished since leaving Jacksonville.

Mr. Gordon wended his way westward landing in Spokane, Wash., where he engaged in teaching and is now superintendent of the Orchard Park School system, a very responsible position.

Writing to a friend in this city the gentleman says: We have a splendid community in which to live just east of the city of Spokane in what is known as the Spokane Valley. Our school system includes five grade buildings and a high school of 175 pupils. There are some 12,000 to 15,000 acres of orchard in the narrow valley of two to four miles in between Spokane's city limits and the Idaho line—about fifteen miles long.

This valley is surrounded by foothills which give us much the same inspiration as comes from a trip through the Yosemite. Our larger river, the Spokane, furnishes ample water to irrigate the thousands of acres of trees and vegetables grown here. Hundreds of acres of wheat give us the touch of farm life to which we were so accustomed before coming here. Numerous nearby lakes give us plenty of recreative opportunities similar to those enjoyed by Jacksonville.

Mr. Gordon also sent a copy of the Millwood high school "Amasika", a publication same as the Rig Veda of Illinois college. Mechanically it is a superb piece of work, excellent paper, superior press work and excellent engraving. It contains 102 pages and is a work of which the teachers and pupils should be very proud.

Mr. Gordon is certainly to be congratulated on the fine success he has attained in his western home.

The "Amasika" has the following dedication: "Our first Amasika dedicated to our common friend and counselor, Supt. Carl O. Gordon, as a token of our esteem and appreciation of the services which he has so freely rendered for the advancement of our school and community."

The fly leaf has the following: "Would you ask me whence these stories Whence these legends and traditions With the memories of our school-house And the spirit of the students Came the book of Am-a-si-ka? I should answer, I should tell you; Came these legends and traditions From the fountains of all yearning, And the labors of our students— Came our book called Am-a-si-ka."

A Private Surgical Hospital
Thru its Public Health Department Says:—

The Crowning Glory

To be a mother is the crowning glory of the female sex. To have an intelligent mother brings the accomplishment nearer. The blessing that is intended to be.

But to be a sensible one the future physical welfare of the child is assured.

Between 12 and 18 the future health of the girl is established.

During this period the sensible mother keeps a watchful eye on any ill or unnatural condition affecting the health of the girl, and takes into her confidence the daughter, and reveals to her the wonderful and important, yet natural conditions surrounding her sex.

The physician is consulted as to the significance of any unintelligible deformity as to function or anatomy and both put in condition that Nature would be pleased.

Failure to carry out this plan is costing thousands of young women years of suffering and unhappiness when a slight operation or medical attention might convert the above outlook into a future of joy and happiness.

More than 18,000 divorces were granted in this country last year (about 3 per minute). It is estimated that two-thirds or 12,000 were due to dispositions, mental and physical, as a result of neglecting the girl as above stated.

Health is wealth. Start the girl out in life well endowed with a good body and mind and you need not fear for her future.

Get this thought well established in your mind—That at the NEW HOME SANITARIUM the help and directions to reach this happy state are yours.

—As we settled down to rigid economy and more thorough work we can expect better results from repairs.

—We make light repairs or heavy repairs.

—We cannot completely overhaul a job in one day. Don't ask us to do this.

DESCRIBES PUEBLO FLOOD DIASASTER

White Hall Man Receives Letter From Niece Telling About Conditions Which Followed Recent Flood in Colorado City.

White Hall, June 16.—Dr. J. S. Billings has received an extended account of the Pueblo flood in a letter from his niece, Miss Dona Spencer, the Spencer family reporting last week as being safe. The letter says under date of June 9th:

"I'll start at the beginning and try to tell you all about the flood, altho when one tries to put into words the sights that I have seen, words almost fail. The wildest visions of imagination cannot come up with the reality of the flood.

"There are two rivers in this town, the Arkansas and the Fountain. The latter is a subterranean, and rises and overflows in such a short time that it is extremely dangerous. The Arkansas rose about eight o'clock Friday night, June 3rd. The Fountain overflowed and thus cut off the east part of the town. The Arkansas divided the north and south sides. So you see we were really like three towns.

"There are soldiers everywhere, and I am sure we would not know what to do without them. The Red Cross is doing great work, too. The school houses and churches are all relief stations. The hospitals will accept only extreme cases. We live quite near the high school, and mother and I are helping in the clothing department. We have two trainloads of clothing in from small towns around. We do not know how many are drowned or lost as yet. One of my old school friends was drowned, trying to help others.

Water Is Scarce.

"We have been able to get a little water at times, but do not dare to use any except for cooking and drinking purposes, and then only when well boiled. We are having an epidemic of typhoid and diphtheria now, and of course that will be worse. Sanitary conditions are very poor. The main part of town was thirteen and a half feet under water. The main stores are a wreck. I had been working in one of the big department stores for a week, and it was a ruin so far as the first floor was concerned. The flood was so terrific that it carried freight cars off tracks and carried them five blocks, and actually tore down three-story buildings. Think of water with sufficient force to drive box cars against a three-story building and wreck it when the river bed is between twelve and fourteen blocks away, and the water had to come up grade, too. The water rose three feet in ten minutes over an area three miles wide.

"Over by the Nickoles, packing plant the water swept away the buildings of several oil companies and some warehouses, and changed the river channel. It tore out a big steel railway bridge, while a train was on the bridge in an effort to hold it, carrying the bridge about half a mile down the river and dumped it in the middle of then steam. At the same place it wrecked two passenger trains and tore up the rails, actually tearing and twisting those steel rails in two. Just how many drowned in the trains is not reported. The packing plant is so badly damaged that it will require at least two million dollars to replace it. The big stand pipe was actually torn out.

"The foreign districts are along the river bottom, and they are just about completely wiped clean. Pepper-Sauce Bottom and the Grove, foreign districts, are completely ruined. These districts were as crowded as they could be, and the loss of property and life cannot be estimated. It is thought that over two billion dollars will be needed to rebuild. The replacement of the town, and that would not restock the stores that were ruined. All the business district is covered with about two feet of mud, and on South Union, one of the streets that connect Main and the river, it is still deeper. The wreckage is higher than two and three story buildings. I am telling you exactly what dad or I have seen, and I could not exaggerate conditions if I tried.

Many Cattle Lost.

"There were several train loads of cattle in the yards awaiting an engine to move them, and they were all lost. Those not drowned had to be shot. We saw the remains being taken from the cars to be burned. They are still burning dead horses and cattle on the outer edge of town. One dairy lost twenty-four horses.

"The depot was under thirteen feet of water, and when the flood subsided it left about four feet of mud. The yards, round house and cars are in such a mess that no effort has been made to use them. However, we have had mail service for two days, and have been getting supplies in from outside points since the 6th. I just hear that the depot is in use today, and now the mail service will be much better.

"There are three hundred and fifty city blocks damaged and ruined. Eighty per cent are ruined, and the rest may be condemned. I didn't believe lots I have written you until I went out and saw for myself.

"I was talking to a guard, and he told me of rescuing three people from some wreckage. The guards had gone out in a boat and in fun turned over some wreckage in which they found a man, a woman and a half grown boy. They had floated down in the wreckage from Saturday's flood. I forgot to mention that the water rose as bad or worse Saturday night as it did Friday night, and then came up again Sunday, but not so high.

"In the clothing department I hear lots of pitiful stories. One man, an Austrian, had two daughters down with diphtheria, and a 15-months-old son had just died

PAGEANT OF OLD TESTAMENT TIMES

Will Be Produced in Hills Surrounding Heath, Mass.

Heath, Mass. — The hills of this little western Massachusetts
town, said to be almost an exact counterpart of those which encircle the ancient village of Bethlehem in Palestine have been selected as the setting for a pageant of Old Testament times
which is to be staged this summer to raise funds for the starving children of foreign lands.

The play will be the drama of David and the actors for the most part will be the country folk of neighboring farming communities, many of whom have a strong dramatic instinct. Miss Flora White of this town is directing the production.

The drama portraying some of the tragic events which had their origin in the mental disorder of King Saul is to be enacted in the outskirts of a deep wood bordering an open pasture. The scene is just outside the gates of Bethlehem near which Saul had pitched his tent and encamped his army. The walls of Bethlehem and the pavilion of Saul are to be located on the extreme right
of the natural amphitheatre which forms the stage. On the extreme left is the wilder country
of the Philistines and the cave of Adullam to which David retreats
when pursued by Saul.

In the center of the amphitheatre is a lonesome pine which forms the rendezvous for Saul
and Samuel when the prophet threatens him with the loss of his kingdom; and again for David and Jonathan when the former is banished from Saul's kingdom. It also represents the spot toward which the soldiery and the town folks drift for gossip
and to which Jonathan goes to practice his favorite pastime—
archery. Here too David meets Michal the daughter of Saul before entering upon his outlawry and makes his solemn vow. "As the Lord liveth and my soul liveth I will claim thee again."

How faithfully the vow was kept through the long years of banishment and pursuit and hard fighting is made clear when David is crowned King of Judah,
for his first words as monarch
were to the premier Abner, refusing to make a league with him
until he had brought him Michal
who was given David to wed.

GOING TO ARIZONA
Mr. and Mrs. William A. Shira of Traverse City, Mich., were in the city on the way to Arizona for the benefit of Mrs. Shira who is sorely afflicted with asthma.

They found an enthusiastic advocate of Tombstone and, relying on his recommendation they set the sails of their car for that place
though they said it might be three or four weeks before they would arrive as they were taking things leisurely.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. McPhail and daughter left yesterday for a visit with friends in Pike county.
Leonard Vieira of the region of Shiloh traveled to the city yesterday.

ITEM WAS UNTRUE

carried a story of the marriage of Miss Ruth Sousa of North Di-

item was received by the Journal

she was Reed Mitchell's mother.
The Journal learns that there is no truth in the report of the marriage and regrets that the item
was published.

PREDICT METEORIC DISPLAY THIS MONTH
Astronomers Predict Phenomenon With Winnecke's Comet.
The recent wonderful display of northern lights was predicted by authorities in the world of astronomy. However, the majority of people do not read astronomy journals and are not familiar with the movements of the different constellations. For that reason many people missed seeing the recent Aurora Borealis, one of the most marvelous displays of natural phenomena ever witnessed in the heavens.
Yesterday it was brought to our attention that a meteoric shower will, in all probability, be visible in the heavens about June 27th. In the last edition of The Monthly Evening Star Map, Professor E. E. Barnard, of Yerkes observatory predicts such a phenomenon in connection with the Winnecke comet which is to be seen in the sky.
Astronomers recently predicted that this comet would hit the earth on a given date in June. Later this was found to be an error and reliable authorities say that the comet will pass the earth's orbit ten days before the earth reaches the point of crossing.
When the Winnecke's comet appeared before, meteoric displays were seen in the heavens. The earth will pass thru the meteoric fields of the comet between the dates June 26-28 and it is then that astronomist predict meteoric displays.
The Winnecke comet is faintly visible in the heavens about 9:30 every evening. It is located in the northeastern sky near the constellation of Hercules. People interested in the stars will watch closely for the predicted meteoric displays following in the wake of Winnecke's comet.
Miss Pearl Cordie of Exeter was the guest of friends in the city yesterday.

WOULD CONFINE KNOWN CRIMINALS
Judge Trude of Chicago Suggests Putting Them Away Before They Commit Crimes.
Chicago.—Putting away identifiable criminals before they commit serious crime is recommended by Judge Daniel P. Trude in a report on the Boys' Court to be published in the forthcoming annual report of the Municipal Court of Chicago.
Establishment of a new institution—an industrial farm colony for such individuals—is proposed by the judge. He bases his conclusions largely on the work of the psychopathic laboratory connected with the municipal court. He says:
"Serious crimes in nearly all instances are preceded by less serious offenses.
"The problem of the repeater is essentially the crime problem. The existing system of meting out light sentences in the hope that they will prove corrective fails in cases of moral defect, which is embraced in the general term, mental defectiveness. The system does in time effect a separation of the reformable from the incorrigible but at a terrible cost. It involves releasing the dangerous defectives and permitting them to renew old associations and roam around the city armed with pistols, knives and blackjacks.
"Improvement must come from identifying the dangerous type at an early age through psychopathic examinations. This work should begin in the public, private and parochial schools, where the worse types can be tagged while still little more than children.
"The public needs to realize that the realm of corrective treatment opened up through psychopathic examination is in no wise related to sentimentalism. It is a coldly scientific matter. The new treatment aims to place potentially dangerous delinquents under restraint so that they will never have opportunity to commit serious crimes. It does not seek to shield them from punishment, but it points out that punishment of the ordinary kind has never proved effective as a means for prevention, nor will the hanging of others deter them.
"Finally, this scientific handling of the problem is not callous toward the welfare and the interests of the individual offenders. Placing them under a long continued restraint is not in any sense retributive or cruel. It is the utmost kindness to them to protect them, through a proper environment, from their own weakness. If periodically allowed freedom, they are certain eventually to commit offenses which will subject them to lifelong shame and misery and punishment.
"The need for a place for segregation and restraint calls for an institution not now in existence—a farm colony. It probably would be neither a prison or a school, but rather an industrial colony in the country a suitable distance from the city of Chicago."
